

Health Science II: Patient Care & Medical Services

Health Science II is designed to further the student's understanding of the health care workplace, including patient and caregiver interactions and how various members of the health care team work together to create an ethical, functional and compassionate environment for patients.